Creativity and Innovation Behavioral Competency for AASTU employees

Trainers:

1. Adamu Esubalew (PhD)
2. Mohammed Zeinu (M.A)

Addis Ababa Science and Technology University

Date: November 11, 2026

Training overview

- Creative and innovative behavioral competency enhances employee's ability to adapt oneself to modern and new changes and apply them to the existing situation.

The training is designed for employees to enhance their behavioral competency on creativity and innovation for:

✓ Identifying new ways of working,

✓ Predicting the future focuses,

✓ Understanding and implementing appropriate response,

✓ Promoting and implementing study findings that improve service delivery and productivity.

Training contents

The main contents of the training contents are:

- Introduction to creativity and innovation,
- Creativity and innovation process steps,
- Sources and importance of creativity and innovation,
- Team-based creativity and innovation,
- Creativity and innovation -based perspectives,
- Entrepreneurial mindset, and
- Understanding and implementing new practices and changes.

Training objectives

The training is aimed to enhance the employee's ability to generate new creative and innovation-oriented operational processes, and implement new practices and changes.

At the end of the training, you will be able to:

- ✓ generate new creative and innovation-oriented operation processes,
- ✓ identify the importance of creativity and innovation,
- ✓ analyze the importance of team-based creativity and innovation,
- ✓ implement organizational operational processes and systems,
- ✓ encourage/ accept creativity and innovation-based perspectives,
- ✓ generate positive entrepreneurial mindsets for creativity and innovation, and
- ✓ implement new practices and changes in creativity and innovation operational processes.

Training time & training methods

- Training time: The training is design for 3 days.
- Training methods: lecture briefing, group discussion and reflections, experience sharing,

Thank You